Ten winemakers, ten terroirs, one grape variety: Chardonnay. On Monday 16th April 2018, the fifth edition of the Passion Chardonnay professional tasting will take place in Reims as part of the unmissable Printemps des Champagnes. On the agenda: a constantly renewed discovery of Chardonnay's many personalities.

Passion. Chardonnay.

Two words that may seem simple or overused if we do not grant them the importance they deserve, without revealing their depth. First and foremost, we have come together to exchange about Passion and Chardonnay and then to share our vision with you, so we warmly invite you to come and meet us during this exceptional tasting. From the still wines of 2017 - still staged by Geoffrey Orban - to the most awaited vintages, you will have, as usual, the freedom to taste the vintages that best represent each estate.

It is in a new, but still exceptional setting, that the gathering will take place on April 16th. Under the calming nineteenth century arches of the chapel at the Hotel de la Paix, with a breathtaking view of Reims, you can meet each of the Passion Chardonnay craftspeople for an exchange of the highest quality. Time is a key element in the development of a great wine; it is equally so for sharing.

We are also looking forward to an intimate and informative meeting during the masterclass, which will be dedicated this year to 2011. An unprecedented, multifaceted and surprising vintage.
